About this ranking

---

What is N&S?

It reflects a university's publication performance in the two leading academic journals, Nature and Science, and is one of the important core indicators for evaluating a university's doctoral-level educational strength.

How this table is created

Global Business Weekly re-sorted the ARWU university table by the N&S score from high to low. The original ARWU world rank is kept as a separate field.

Why Top 1000

The table keeps the full set of 1,000 institutions published in the ARWU ranking, making it useful for comparison and reference.

Important clarification

ARWU is one of the world's three major authoritative university rankings. Its evaluation system places strong emphasis on a university's doctoral-level strength. Within this framework, the N&S indicator is an important core metric for assessing a university's top-tier research output and doctoral training capacity.
